Foreword

People are what make Fairfield High School what it is. Students and teachers thinking, playing, talking, laughing, cheering, arguing, gossiping, and conspiring are what gives our high school its character. Environment and other outside forces also work in molding a school's personality.

This year was its own. It was a mixture of endless disappointments, as well as proud joy. Fairfield High began to excel in new avenues without losing old qualities either.

Deep down in every FHS student's heart there is a love for this school. it may be buried deeply now, but one day will recognize it. When you do, look at the 1973 EAGLE EYE, because we offer it in love.

Mr. Thomas Cameron

Superintendent Of Schools

Principal Of FHS -

— MR. DON EMMONS

Being Principal of FHS, Mr. Don Emmons is a busy man. He is also a rancher and a father and an interested citizen. Mr. Emmons executes his duties with a sense of humor and fairness that is admired by all. He oversees high school activities and appears to be genuinely interested in them. Mr. Emmons, the Eagle Eye salutes you.

Mr. Harold Loewe
Jr. High Principal

Mr. Harold Loewe, Fairfield Junior High School Principal, is a man of many abilities. In addition to his duties as principal, he is very active in sports. As coach of the Jr. High Girls' Basketball teams and the Jr. High and High School Tennis teams, he carries a very heavy schedule. Nevertheless, he never neglects his duties as principal. He tries to have the best of everything for his students and expects his students' help in their upkeep. We all appreciate the effort he is putting forth. Mr. Loewe shall never be forgotten at Fairfield Junior High School.

Intermediate Principal
Mr. Laclaire Williamson

Mr. Williamson is principal of our intermediate school. He is doing a fine job of guiding our youngsters into becoming good citizens of the future.

As principal of the elementary school, Mr. Burleson is responsible for the well-being of students from kindergarten through third grade. Mr. Burleson does his job quite well. He is a fine example for the youngsters of our school.

Mr. Maurice Burleson —

RUTH SMITH
Media Center Aide

The Media Center helps the Fairfield Independent School District in many ways. It provides films pertaining to almost any subject, audio visual materials, photocopies, and videotape units. The center not only provides these things, but it also handles all applications for Titles I, II, and III. The services this center provides improves our school life and benefits the students and faculty.

Beverly Ivy Gamble Citizenship Award

Judy Terry was presented with the Beverly Ivy Gamble Citizenship Award. This award is given annually to a Senior girl who displays outstanding qualities of leadership and scholarship. Judy lead her class as Valedictorian, and her school as a Varsity Cheerleader. In addition, she was president of the Band and Beta Club. These are just a few of the ways in which Judy showed her enthusiasm in and dedication to Fairfield High School.

Hayward Eatmon Citizenship Award

The recipient of the Hayward Eatmon Award is determined on one's academic standings, leadership ability, and participation in school activities. Mike met all these requirements and showed excellence in many other areas as well. Mike was outstanding and well thought of as a leader in this school. The Seniors of 1971 proudly present the Hayward Eatmon Award to Mike Williams.

Ben Capps, Jr. Memorial Award

The B. C. JR. Memorial Award was presented to Gene Wills, a fine leader in our school and community. In order to receive this award one must be recommended by a teacher or Rotarian, must volunteer for service to his community and school; and must not have a police record. Gene Wills was an excellent choice for this award. He has represented the Fairfield schools and community well in all capacities in which he has participated.

Eagle Beat Receives Award Of Distinguished Merit

The EAGLE BEAT staff traveled to Austin in March to attend the Interscholastic League Press Conference, held at the University of Texas. Here, the EAGLE BEAT was given the Award of Distinguished Merit, and was rated "tops" in its category. Staff members attended various workshops, which covered a wide range of topics, from Newswriting to Photography.

The EAGLE BEAT'S success is due largely to the hard work put forth by the staff. The editors, Linda Willard, and Denise Watson, along with sponsor Mrs. Pattie Jones, headed the staff with enthusiasm and determination.

One Act Play Wins

"The Happy Journey"
Directed By Neil Bass

For the first time in five years, Fairfield's One-Act Play won the District Title. Fairfield was in competition with Groesbeck, Teague, Madisonville, and Rosebud-Lott. The cast presented the play "The Happy Journey" by Thornton Wilder. The play was produced by a special arrangement with Samuel Finch. Our group did not place at Regional, but they did gain a valuable experience and an exciting honor.
